"TAKE BACK YOUR HORSE"

Was the Song by Perry to Stover.

SETTLEMENT EFFECTED

And all Differences Thrown to the Winds.

Misunderstanding Causes the Arrest of Marion Liveryman—Peace Again Reigns in Delaware.

A horse trade between R. P. Perry proprietor of a livery barn on Union street and W. J. Stover, a trader of Ostrander, resulted in difficulties which were finally settled at Delaware, Thursday evening. The fact that Perry claimed that Stover dragged his horses before effecting the trade was the source of the entire trouble.

The trade took place May 8, when Stover agreed to give Perry two geldings in exchange for a horse and about $180. Stover placed the money in the Marion Savings Bank and took out a certificate of deposit.

When he came to believe that the horses traded by Stover were drugged, Perry attached the money in the Savings Bank on a suit started in Justice Thompson's court. Then he and his attorney went to Delaware in hope of effecting a settlement with Stover.

Perry secured possession of the certificate of deposit. Stover claims this was done illegally but Perry and his attorney say the Delaware man gave the certificate voluntarily. By agreement this certificate was deposited in the Marion Savings Bank.

Thursday Stover filed affidavits before a Delaware magistrate against Perry and his attorney, and late in the afternoon the two Marion men went to Delaware to answer to the affidavits.

Thursday evening a settlement was effected by Perry and Stover and the Delaware county man returned the horse he had secured from Perry. The money in the bank was also returned to Perry.

At Prospect, today, the horses were returned to their respective owners.

ONE BUNNIE COSTS THIRTY-ONE DOLLARS

Young Italian is Nabbed in Bucyrus.

He was Innocent of the Game Law but That did not Excuse Him.

Although it is generally conceded that the Italian is as fond of the sweet meat of the cotton tale as the turkey is of his "shicken," it is scarcely ever that he pays the price of $31 to get some of this same sweet meat. And yet that's what S. Cellini, the bun-yan-an-ya man from this city did at Bucyrus yesterday.

Cellini, a local ambitious young Italian fruit-seller, drove to Bucyrus yesterday with a load of bananas. It seems as though some of those Bucyrus Sleuths got to prying about in his wagon, whether or not they were hunting for bananas or making an investigation of affairs is not known, at any rate they found a vicious look-in revolver and a rabbit. Cellini was arrested by the chief of police and taken before Squire Meek, charged with shooting a rabbit out of season. Cellini admitted his crime, but innocence of the game law was his plea. He was given the least fine the law allows—twenty-five dollars and costs, amounting in totum to $31.05. He had the "doskey" and settled for $31. the squire giving him a reduction of five cents for cash.

Cellini was also warned that he was liable to arrest for carrying concealed weapons, but was allowed to take his revolver and rabbit and return to Marion.

DIVORCES FALLING OFF

Only Thirty Shown on the New Docket.

DOMESTIC DIFFICULTIES

Are now Being Adjusted Out of Court.

Sheriff Drown is Busy Summoning Witnesses to Appear Before the Coming Grand Jury.

The docket for the May term of the court of common pleas, just completed by Deputy County Clerk Carhart, shows a marked falling off in divorce proceedings. Where the docket for the January term showed that in more than 200 cases, about 60 were divorce proceedings, the docket for the new term shows only 30 divorce suits in a total of 229 cases.

Several reasons for this decrease in divorce litigation might be assigned. In the first place, local attorneys are said to be discouraging this kind of proceedings as much as possible. Whenever it is possible, domestic difficulties are settled without recourse to the courts, and in many cases, suits have been dismissed after being begun in the courts.

During the January term, Judge Young disposed of an unusually large number of divorce suits, hearing and deciding some which had been on the docket for a year or more.

Sheriff Drown is now busy serving subpoenas upon those who are to appear before the grand jury, which meets next Monday.

This session of the grand jury will be one of the most important that has taken place in several years. There are nine cases to be considered, and the majority of them are of more than ordinary interest. Prosecutor Clark is getting ready to take the cases in their turn and to have the grand jury complete its work as soon as possible.

LOST IN A POKER GAME

HORSE THIEVES BUSY

Valuable Horse Stolen From George Schultz.

Authorities of Surrounding Towns Notified to be on the Watch for the Outfit—Police News.

While the family of George Schultz was asleep at his residence, one mile east of the city last night, robbers entered the barn and hitching the horse to a buggy drove away without leaving any clue, whatever.

Mr. Schultz discovered his loss early this morning and, after making a complete investigation himself, reported the matter to police headquarters. Chief Cornwell communicated with all of the surrounding towns and made every effort to locate the stolen property before it is taken from this locality.

The robbers were traced in the buggy to a point almost to this city but here the trail doubled and evidently they turned and again passed the scene of the theft.

The animal stolen is a sorrel horse, double gaited and eleven years old. Its weight is 1100 pounds. A white left front foot is a distinguishing mark on the horse. The buggy was an old fashioned one, but the harness was about new. The value of the outfit stolen is $250.

Charged with failure to provide for his wife and four little children and with desertion, J. H. Goolsby, of Chicago avenue, was arrested yesterday in South Lorain by Humane Officer J. W. Uish.

Goolsby left the city about two weeks ago, after the Steam Shovel company had laid off a number of its employees. Goolsby went to Gallion in search of employment. From Gallion he went to Grafton, thence to Elyria and from there to Lorain, where he was working for a steam shovel company.

In the mayor's court this morning, he said that after he had been laid off he had fifty dollars. He foolishly played poker all night, he said, and lost all but ten dollars of his money. Afraid to tell his wife of his losses, he gave her half of the money, and, without saying anything, left to get work. He was finally located by J. W. Uish.

The mayor believed the man's story to the effect that he had not intended to desert his wife and family, but that he intended to send them plenty of money on Saturday, which would be pay day. The mayor gave him a suspended workhouse sentence of ninety days on condition that he returns to his work and supplies his wife and little ones with sufficient money.

After the trial he went out to his home, but his wife refused to admit him. On learning the circumstances of his visit to Marion, the wife re-lented.

The members of the Marion baseball club were arraigned in the mayor's court this afternoon on the charge of playing ball at Webb park last Sunday. A continuance of the case until next Tuesday, was given by the mayor in order to allow the attorneys for the players to prepare their cases. The affidavit against the ball players was filed by Frank Zuck.

Contractor Sam Bader takes exception to the article published yesterday in the Mirror which stated that he had refused to stop work on a house on Commercial street on account of the critical condition of an infant in the next house. Mr. Bader states that he was not requested to stop work until yesterday morning and that he did so at once and will not resume work on the house until the infant is entirely out of danger.

"CHINA CENTENIAL"

Was Topic Discussed by Epworth Foreign Missionary Society.

"China Centennial" was the subject of the program rendered by the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of Epworth M. E. church held in the church parlors Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Frank Siffritt was leader and gave a thorough and instructive talk on the subject. Mrs. George Von Stein read an interesting paper on "China" and Miss McMurtrie gave a selection from a leaflet. The program closed with a select reading by Mrs. Charles Hoskins. Following the program, a short business meeting was held in which only the regular monthly business was considered.

Piles are dangerous, but do not submit to an operation until you have first tried Man Zan the Great Pile Remedy. It is put up in col. insipible tubes with a nozzle that allows it to be applied exactly where it is needed. If you have itching, bleeding or protruding piles and Man Zan does not relieve, money refunded. Soothe and cool. Relieves at once.
